CRST Malone Recognizes Outstanding Drivers for 2010

(Birmingham, AL) - CRST Malone recognized outstanding Owner Operators and Million-Mile Award Winners at its annual awards banquet held October 8, 2010.

Eddy Krogman was awarded the 2010 Owner Operator of the Year Award, which was presented by CRST Malone President Scott Shephard and Vice President of Operations Jim Schommer. Krogman, a native of Anamosa, Iowa, has worked exclusively with Malone during his 30-year driving career. He and his wife Sandy have one daughter and six grandchildren.

CRST Malone also presented Two-Million-Mile Awards to Ron Denlinger, Roy Foor, Joe Clark and Jim Hinchee. One-Million-Mile Awards were given to Chuck Holston, Ricky Mowery and Bob Danhausen.

Four men were also recognized as CRST Malone's Owner Operators of the Quarter. Frank Hockady was the winner for the first quarter, Rodney Gaskin won for the second quarter, Eddy Krogman won for the third quarter, and Darin Artz received the award for the fourth quarter.

The honorees attending were presented with a variety of prizes including plaques, watches, rings, and jackets. Spouses of the award winners were also recognized for their contributions during the Friday evening banquet and at the group breakfast that followed on Saturday.

CRST Malone is the largest U. S. flatbed organization under one roof, with over 1100 trucks and field offices throughout the United States. Headquartered in Birmingham, Alabama, CRST Malone provides freight services in strategic areas including Sided Equipment, Specialized Freight, Long Haul, Regional, and LTL.

CRST Malone was founded in 1928 on the principals of superior customer service, along with the relentless pursuit of maximizing the success of our independent contractors and terminals. The company continues today as one of the oldest truckload carriers in the industry.
